

Manager

This is good job for me. Cause of it I think that if you want to manage someone, you need to know how to manage yourself. My managing of myself is going to next level or stage of explanation.

I create manage patterns that may create full picture of people.

Good manager need to know something about psychology. I create my own psychology.

Good manager needs to know how to manage yourself.

Good manager needs to know how solve problems and makes from them positive/benefit/plus.

My resume for these professions cannot contain some official jobs. Ergo I work only for my business management or it is the additional target of my job. For example, I work as administrator and I need to manage all products, control them and control other workers. They need to do my job and I need to say all complete work for my boss.

In my business, I control all my products and research market. In addition, I have a group of retailers every time. Sometimes I have people who make product; it may be product in games. Example: I have server and server needs to have city, I have group of builders on server that control environment in it. Many targets I give to outsource because anytime I can count my time.

All of my management completely described in my analytics page. I think you do not see something like it.

My thought about management – management will do automatically and human watch results only in the end of all. I think that I will do a lot of programs that will solve this task.
